

The future of Econis AG has been secured

Econis, a company based in Dietikon and specializing in cloud and outsourcing services as well as IT solutions, is placing its trust in Renaissance to plan its next generation of management and consolidate its shareholding.

A winning alliance

A new CEO was already put in place 18 months ago with the arrival of Toni Fuchs to head the company. Today, a new important stage has been completed with the acquisition by the Renaissance investment foundation of the majority of the share capital, alongside the new CEO. A new shareholder structure that guarantees the company's long-term future has thus been put in place.

Hans Blindenbacher, founder of the company, will remain on the Board as President to guarantee Econis' strategic continuity together with the management.

Business ■ Solutions

“ With this solution we are consolidating and developing the company’s position as a Swiss IT services provider, in particular thanks to new services in the area of Security & Workplace Management. I am convinced the independence and stability of the new owners will meet our clients’ expectations and will allows us to continue our good business relationships.”

Toni Fuchs, CEO of Econis

The Renaissance viewpoint

Xavier Paternot, who represents the Renaissance investment foundation on the Board of Directors, added: “As the representative of the pension institutions which have invested in the Renaissance investment foundation, we are pleased to secure this company’s future. Being a key player in the Swiss IT outsourcing services market, Econis has built up a remarkable client portfolio. We were impressed with the company’s exceptional references and with the dynamism and experience of its team. Renaissance’s objective is to optimally support the company by giving it the means to continue offering its clients competitive and innovative services”.

Renaissance activates the best of Switzerland

Renaissance partners with Swiss SMEs to finance their growth- and succession-plans. We give preference to innovative SMEs with a turnover of between CHF 20 and 80 million. Our investments are financed exclusively by pension funds grouped together within our foundation. For the last 20 years, we have offered the investors and entrepreneurs who place their trust in us a locally-based, high-quality service.
